

JOB SEARCHING TIPS

If you find yourself needing to start to job search here's a useful reminder about the key things to focus on and where to go to find out what jobs are available.

JOB SEARCH

Your job search checklist

- Update your CV
Make sure it has all your employment history, experience and key skills.
- Tailor your CV
Tweak your CV to make the most relevant parts to the job you are applying for stand out.
- Network
Ask people you used to work with, in the playground, neighbours or relatives if they know of jobs.
- Take time on applications
Even the long ones, employers will decide if you are the right fit by reading them!
- Stay resilient
Remember not to take it personally if you don't hear back about a job.

Where to job search online

Use job search sites to find out about particular roles, there are lots of sites but here are a few ideas to start you off;

www.indeed.co.uk

www.totaljobs.com

www.cv-library.co.uk

Remember you can apply directly on major employer sites too, for example in the NHS or Councils, and you can also Google sector related jobs ie: 'jobs in construction' or 'jobs in finance' .

Finding help

Many of the job search sites have helpful information within them, but you might also find the following organisations useful;

The National Careers Service

<https://nationalcareers.service.gov.uk/>

Current employment support projects running in Essex are listed on this site

www.livingwellessex.org/work-and-learning/finding-work/finding-a-job/

Remember that you can always get in contact with your local Job Centre Plus to find out about local employment support projects.
